PEALS TO MEN OF ALL PARTIES

Roosevelt Leaders Make Public Colonel's Telegram to W. A. White.

The title of the national Republican party today is not the party of the Republican voters and is not the party of Abraham Lincoln, but purely the party of Messrs. Barnes, Penrose, Gugenheim & Co., who have stolen the doorplate with the name, but have no moral right to the name or to anything else. Therefore, I hold that every honest republican, who is true to Lincoln's memory and principles must vote with us. Under such conditions of the entire local Republican organization in a State like Kansas can rightly continue as such and yet is in duty bound loyally to support the national progressive electors. Of course, I feel that in every such progressive Republican State, the progressive Republican candidates for any office should openly support the national progressive electors and go in the same column on the ticket with them. THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Mr. Bristow declared that the renomination of President Taft was "fraudulent" and that "Republicans are in no way bound by it."

KENTUCKY POSTMASTER OUSTED BY TAFT

L. B. McHargue, at London, Dismissed Because His Newspaper Contained Editorial Criticizing The President.

BRADLEY ASKED TO NAME SUCCESSOR.

Washington, July 6.—For an attack on President Taft recently published in the Mountain Echo, at London, Ky., Lee B. McHargue, who is represented to be the manager of that newspaper, has been removed as postmaster of London by order of the President. Senator Bradley has received the following letter from Dr. C. P. Garfield, First Assistant Postmaster General, dated July 3, which was given to the Times' correspondent jointly by the White House and Senator Bradley today.

An order has this day been made by direction of the President removing Lee B. McHargue as Postmaster at London, Ky., for violation of the President in the newspaper controlled by him. As the London post-office is to be placed in charge of the Postmaster's sureties until another appointment is made at an early date is desired your prompt recommendation for the appointment of a successor to Mr. McHargue."

Senator Bradley has not thus far recommended a successor to Mr. McHargue.

McHargue's paper has attacked President Taft in a most outrageous manner, said Mr. Garfield today. It accuses the President of stealing delegates in the Chicago convention.

The post-office authorities declined to give up the clipping from the Mountain Echo which caused the removal of McHargue. Senator Bradley said the paper likened President Taft to a "rat in a corner," called him a "man of straw" and charged he got the nomination through "fraudulent delegates."

SUPPORTED ROOSEVELT.

Mountain Echo Has Contained Some Strong Strictures about President Taft.

London, Ky., July 6.—The Mountain Echo is published in this city, with L. B. McHargue manager and J. W. Stevenson as editor. Mr. McHargue also is postmaster here. The paper has been strongly for Roosevelt through the Republican pre-convention campaign and in its issue of July 4, appeared the following editorial:

"Yes, we are still for Taft even if he was the receiver of stolen goods in the form of illegal delegates. What if this nomination is tainted, there are men in the House and senate whose titles are also tainted, and we have upheld them all along. One more will not matter much, and then Mr. Taft accepted the stolen delegates so gracefully that one could scarcely help admiring his nerve. Yes, you bet, we are for 'Big Bill' and 'Sunny Jim,' 'Boss Barnes, Penrose, the high finance of Wall street and all the other embezzlements that will add luster to the Taft campaign. Let 'er go. It's a great ticket, and we have fallen for it strong."

THE ROAD QUESTION.

Last Monday was county court and an unusually large crowd was in town composed of farmers from every section of the county and men from almost every section of the county came to me complaining about the bad conditions of the roads. I find that some overseers have not yet worked their roads and in some sections they have no overseers. In some instances those who were appointed have moved away without notifying the county judge and none of the citizens of such districts have taken sufficient interest to have another appointed. In other districts those who were appointed declined to serve. If the people living in such districts are not sufficiently interested in good roads to see that their roads are worked, that is alright, but it is not fair to the other road hands in the county, for the hands in those districts to be let off from working and if the hands in such districts do not get together and select an overseer when they have none and work their roads, I will have to assign the hands to some other district. In reference to those districts where the overseers have not attempted to put their roads in good condition for travel as required by law, if and citizen will report such overseer and furnish me with the evidence upon which to base a conviction, I will issue a warrant and see if we cannot arrange to have such roads worked at the expense of such overseers.

JOHN W. BLUE, JR. JUDGE.

OFFICES WILL BE DISCONTINUED.

No More Road Supervisors After October 1—New State Law Takes Effect.

A copy of the Acts of the recent legislature regarding the new road laws has been received. Section 48 of Chapter 110 reads in part as follows.

"There is hereby created in the several counties of the State of Kentucky the office of County Road Engineer, the county judge of each of the counties of this state by and with the consent of the fiscal court shall within 30 days after this law becomes operative on or before the first day of October, 1912, and every two years thereafter, appoint a county Road Engineer, who shall be either a reputable civil engineer or a man who has had practical experience as a road supervisor or builder for two years and who shall have passed a creditable examination by the State Commissioner of Public Roads or one of his representatives.

Nothing in this section shall prevent the present road supervisors from serving term for which he was elected or appointed. Such County Road Engineer except the first, as appointed shall serve for a period of two years from and after the first day of October and until his successor is elected and qualified. The term of the first one appointed regardless by whom the appointment was made, shall expire Oct. 1, 1914. Vacancies in the office of the county road engineer shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term by the county judge of the county, by and with the consent and approval of the fiscal court. The county road engineer shall receive compensation either by salary or per diem as may be fixed by order of the fiscal court of the county at a reasonable sum. Should the fiscal court refuse to fix a salary for the road engineer or if same be considered inadequate, he shall have the right to appeal to the circuit court of the county.

The county road engineer shall have an office at the county seat of the county. The county road engineer may be removed at any time by the county judge of the county upon his own volition for incompetency, malfeasance of which ten days notice shall be given by serving a copy of such charges upon such county road engineer.

Flag Flies 830 feet Up.

(New York Telegram to the Baltimore Sun.)

The United States flag was unfurled from the tower of the Woolworth building Sunday.
This marks the completion of the tallest office building in the world, and the only structure of any kind which exceeds it in height is the Eiffel Tower in Paris. The greater part of the main building is already inclosed, and it was said that the offices will be ready for tenants early in November.

The flagstaff, which was put in place early, was a steel pole thirty feet high, and the flag which will wave from its top over Manhattan Island is 830 feet above the street level. The actual height of the building, including the topmost tower story available for occupancy, is 750 feet. The ornamental tower apex above this is fifty feet, giving a round 800 feet of elevation from the Broadway sidewalk to the base of the flagpole. The actual height of the Metropolitan tower, hitherto the highest building in the city, is 703 feet 3 inches, and the Singer tower is 612 feet 6 inches.

Construction work on the Woolworth building began in October, 1911. The foundations were laid by the pneumatic method, the huge structure resting upon sixty-six concrete piers

based on a solid rock foundation 115 feet below the surface.

The foundation work cost $1,200,000 and the entire cost of the fifty-five-story structure, including the land, is about $13,000,000. The land cost Frank Woolworth about $2,500,000, including the entire Broadway block front on the west side,
with large frontages on Park
place and Barclay street.

The total weight of the building with contents is estimated at 135,000,000 tons. This load is distributed over sixty main columns, the greatest load for a single column being 9,500,000 pounds. Some of the steel columns have their footings on piers, and the column load in such cases is carried by great steel girders 23 feet long, 8 feet deep and 6 feet wide, and these girders rest on two piers 16 feet apart.

in order that all who desire to do so may reserve material for

I also desire to call your attenof a fifty dollar silver pitcher, offered by the Lexington Coming profits on an acre of corn by any resident of Kentucky of any age. This trophy must be won

THE STATE BOARD OF HEALTH WILL TEST CATTLE

Co-operation With United States Department of Agriculture—
Dairymen Have Demanded It.

The increasing spread of tuberculosis among dairy cattle endangering the public health,
by transmitting the disease through the milk and butter, has made necessary a crusade against this disease in bovines. By eliminating diseased cattle from the city dairies, the most potent source of infection to infants can be stamped out, as it is shown that a large percentage of children suffering from tuberculosis are infected with tubercle bacilli of the bovine type and the disease traced directly to the milk of infected dairy cattle.
And can it be wondered at, when microscopical examination of the milk in various cities of the United States has disclosed this germ (Tubercle bacillus) in market milk in from two to sixty per cent of the samples examined. The producer and consumer simultaneously realize the danger, and wish to sel-milk and buy milk from tested herds, respectively, thereby complying with the Proclamation of the State Board of Health and City Health Ordinances, which necessitate that all cattle be tested for tuberculosis before the milk is sold for human consumption. This ends the controverary, and the dairymen are only too glad to test their cattle, when the cost of testing is reduced to absolutely nothing. As evidence of this fact, many already made application for the cooperative test.

The State of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture wish to encourage all dairymen to keep tuberculin tested cattle and protect the consumer from tuberculosis, and to promote the work, they announce a cooperative test with the State Board of Health of Kentucky, gratis to owners. In order to obtain the services of the Government experts in testing the herds, it will be necessary to comply with regulations of the Bureau of Animal Industry, which states that animals which react to the test will have to be isolated from the healthy herd, or slaughtered, according to the Government Meat Inspection

laws. The owner, of course, may choose his pleasure in this matter. We trust all dairymen in the state will avail themselves of this opportunity by making application for the services of the Government experts, stating the number of cows in the herd.
The Board of Health will be glad to file all applications for testing on or before July 8th, 1912. Further information gladly furnished upon application.

Lansing, Mich., July 3.—Gov.
Chas. S. Osborn, an ardent Roosevelt supporter during the Colonel's battle for the Republican Presidential nomination, today issued a statement in which he declared his belief that there "is no necessity for a new political party." He also stated, he hoped Roosevelt would not be a candidate.

"The issue is clearly joined for the people," said the Governor in his statement. "It is Wall Street vs. Wilson. Woodrow Wilson's character, temperament, pretension and fitness is above the high average of American Presidents. He is a Christian a scholar and a fearless citi-

"Republicans can vote for Wil-or bolting. The real Republican party has no candidate for President this year. There has been no nomination. The action of Permanent alteration in the climate of the Alaskan coast, through shifting of warm ocean currents by lifting of the sea bottom, the opening of new fishing banks of unestimated value and the eventual closing of Behing Strait, owing to a rise in the floor of the sea, are among the scientific probabilities now being investigated as the result of the eruption of Mount Katmai a month ago.

The London Echo, a staunch Labour organ in Laurel county, calls upon Taft to withdraw and let the Republicans nominate some one who can win. It says:

"Many of those who are strong supporters of Mr. Taft realize that he does not stand the shadow of a chance to win. Having stolen his nomination the rank and file of the party do not look upon him as the regular nominee of the party, and feel that they are absolved from supporting him. As we see it there is only one way out, only one chance for the Republicans to win in the elections this year. If President Taft will withdraw and show his manhood by acknowledging that he was nominated unfairly, another convention could be held and a candidate nominated who is the choice of the rank and file.

ive visitors, Miss Julia Holman and Miss Claude Yowell of Vinton; Miss Jewell Huston of Owensboro; Miss Ruby Cromwell of Palestine, Texas, and Mrs. L. S. Walton of Kentwood La. Roses and Jasmines tastefully arranged formed a lovely decoration.

Saint, a prominent business man of Hammond, La.

Besides the honorees about fifty guests were present at this pleasant home and the hospitalities dispensed by the charming and cultivated hostesses were a repetition of those for which the State is famed.

In reply to the article from Mattoon last week on the "Gossips," am sorry to have to acknowledge, we have people in our neighborhood who will neglect home and children to talk of some other person's affairs. If the "women who talk" so much would devote the time they take to gossip, in going to church and Sunday School and doing their own work, our church members and so-called christians would have more influence over the world.

To Teachers And Trustees.

The proper medium for settlement of controversies arising between teachers and trustees is the county superintendent of schools. Many teachers, trustees and citizens have a custom of writing to the State Superintendent of Public Instruction about every little detail of school management. I have no objection to answering these questions as it is always a pleasure to render assistance to any school official or citizen interested in the welfare of the schools. These requests often state only one side of the question and it is impossible to give a fair decision until we have heard both sides. In view of these facts, I think it wise and just for all trustees, teachers and citizens to submit these questions first to the county superintendent. When an opinion is needed the county superintendent is the proper person to ask for an opinion from the State office. When this is done he can give both sides of the question and the State office can render an intelligent opinion. Strictly speaking, I have no authority to give an opinion, except upon an appeal from the decision of the county Superintendent or upon his request. I desire to make this appeal to all the teachers and trustees, to submit your questions first to the County Superintendent, who is the proper person to decide all questions of difference and doubt regarding the schools of his county.

Yours very truly,
BARKSDALE HAMLETT
State Superintendent.

THE FAMOUS FORD AUTOMOBILES

$690 - TOURING - $690

"Safety"-spell it the new way and it's 'F-o-r-d.' Certainty of operation-strength and lightness made possible by Vanadium steel-simplicity of construction, these make the Ford the safest car in the world. A reason why every third car on the highway this year will be a Ford.

$590 - RUNABOUT - $590

All life is a "whiz"--and every third whiz on the road is a Ford. It's the car of the millions and the millionaire--lightest, rightest, most economical. Many thousands of the seventy-five thousand we're building this year are being sold to the owners of more expensive cars.

$590 - PHYSICIANS - $590

And this is this stamp of approval of a responsible maker-proud of his good handiwork. The "Winged-Pyramid" is backed by the biggest reliability in all automobiledom-something better than a guarantee-a worthy reputation-and a car that will go seventy-five thousand strong this year.

ASKS ROOSEVELT'S EXPENSE ACCOUNT.

La Follette Again Calls on Colonel Roosevelt To Tell What Campaign Cost.

Lo Crosse, Wis., July 6. - United States Senator, La Follette, in a printed article today, asks Col. Roosevelt for the second time to publish his expense account, or else a candid statement of his reasons for this spurning one of the basic principles of public morality and political decency. When La Follette made public a statement of his campaign receipts during the Ohio primary contest, he called on Roosevelt to do likewise. There has been no response. La Follette says in part:

"Big business with big money derived from unfair privileges, is ever in politics and is ever ready to place its funds back of a likely winner who is subservient in the sense that a chisel is subservient to the hand of a carpenter, or serviceable to the extent that he is 'harmless' in performance.

"Special privilege puts money into political campaigning by way of investment. From such investments it demands substantial rewards. It is to protect the public interest from rewards such as these conceived in twilight and consummated in secret that the people demand publicity of campaign contributions.

"Therefore Roosevelt entered the contest for the presidential nomination as a 'progressive'. He made a strenuous campaign for votes and a noisy scramble for Southern delegates on the ground that he represented progressive doctrine. In his fight he had the backing of the 'Steel Trust' and the 'Harvester Trust.' Financial giants like Perkins, Hanna and Munsey contributed to his cause. His campaign was characterized by a riotous expenditure of money. Yet he has made no public accounting. He has not taken the American people into his confidence. He has ignored the progressive principle of publicity."

La Follette's article is a reprint of one published in the Lo Crosse, Wis., Journal, July 6. It is a reprint of one published in the Lo Crosse, Wis., Journal, July 6. It is a reprint of one published in the Lo Crosse, Wis., Journal, July 6.

Every person who is interested in his own advancement should be a reader of current history. ### Beautiful Wife Is Capital Prize.

St. Petersburg, July 2. - A remarkable bachelor's lottery is being organized at Smolensk. The prize is a beautiful young wife, and 5,000 tickets at half a crown each are being sold.

Not every one who pays half a crown, can, however, hope to win the bride. She is to be "at home" every day for a week to the ticket holders and if after interviewing them, if she does not approve of some candidate as a possible husband, his money is to be refunded to him and the ticket withdrawn.

Another stipulation of the scheme is that when the winner eventually comes to claim his bride he may yet be rejected by her, but receives by way of compensation half the sum of the total proceeds from the sale of the tickets.

The drawing of the lottery, which has been sanctioned by the authorities, will take place shortly.

Leather Device Can Be Put Over Eyes of Ugly Animal, Giving Good Ventilation and Light.

The following description of a hood for a bull that has become brachy is written by a contributor to Hoard's Dairymen.

I got a flank of leather for about $1.25, took a good five-ring halter that fit you can vary the size, cut the front, 13 inches at top by 8 inches at bottom and 12 inches long; two side pieces 8 inches wide at top by 6 inches bottom, 12 inches long; cut front of side pieces square, back on a miter. Put inside of leather together, black side down of front and up of side, rivet about three-fourths of an inch from edge with copper belt rivets and burrs long enough to rivet well, and 1 1/2 inches apart center to center (as he will try it severely).

The hood will stand open like a box at corners over his eyes, giving good ventilation and some light. Rivet back of side pieces to side strap of halter between the rings, make a loop around back of upper ring and rivet, rivet a strap to lower corner of side piece; rivet bottom of front to nose piece of halter.

The drawing shows how it is used. Those who have tried it recommend it.

MISSION DAY.
On the fourth Sunday in June, 1912, at Shady Grove, Ky., Clear

Spring Church celebrated her annual mission day. A large crowd assembled at the place to hear the sermon by our pastor, Rev. W. R. Gibbs and to share in all the blessings and enjoyments of the day.

Bro. Gibbs found his text in Acts 1-8, and preached a very touching and interesting sermon, holding up before us the great importance of missions that we should help to spread the Gospel to the uttermost parts of the earth. After the sermon a very liberal collection was taken up which resulted in $37.60 which was to go to Missions and Ministers' aid. Every one brought well filled baskets and the dinner was spread in Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Towery's beautiful lawn where all partook of the good things that were before them.

At 2:20 o'clock the house was called to order and a very interesting sermon was preached by Bro. J. R. Clark, after which we were dismissed and every one left feeling in their hearts that they had been blessed by being present, and had spent the day pleasantly.

May God's richest blessings rest on the pastor and all his followers. — A MEMBER.

Nomination of Wilson.

"The nomination of Wilson means an overwhelming Democratic victory."

—W. J. Bryan.

Baltimore July 2.—"The nomination of Woodrow Wilson means an overwhelming Democratic victory next fall," declared Mr. Bryan this evening. I am satisfied that with Wilson running for president on a platform which will be prepared, that there will be comparatively few progressive Republicans who will not feel justified in supporting the Democratic ticket. It is estimated the Democrats would have 2,000,000 popular majority in November and an overwhelming majority in the electoral college.

"It has been a long convention but the results are worth the time. The dawn is here and progressive Democracy will be the people's pillar of cloud by day."

It is bad enough as it is but if the boulder had hit the man fairly it would have caused his instant death very probably. He is going around on crutches now but will be laid off for several days yet to come.

Holt of California, temporary chairman of the convention, who had been the champion of Bryan in the primary.

Among the leaders for the vote, the Clark forces, however, realized that if the speaker was to win he must do so in spite of Mr. Bryan's opposition. The Wilson leaders knew they would have Bryan's support, but would it suffice? Leaders of other candidates were wondering what form the alignment would take when the deadlock between Clark and Wilson should be broken.

Mr. Bryan was named as a member of the committee on resolutions, but refused the chairmanship of the committee. The reason for his refusal was explained on Thursday night, when, after the permanent organization had been completed and Ollie James of Kentucky had delivered his address as permanent chairman, Mr. Bryan stepped to the front of the speaker's platform and asked unanimous consent for the presentation of a resolution. But the convention was not willing to take Mr. Bryan on faith and cried "Not Not." "Read it," read the resolution, "arose from all parts of the great hall."

Mr. Bryan, raising his voice so that it filled the hall, and could be heard despite the uproar, read:

Resolved: That we hereby declare ourselves against the nomination of any candidate representing or under the domination of J. Pierpont Morgan, Thomas F. Ryan, August Belmont or any other member of the favored or privileged class. Also that we ask and demand representing such an interest be requested to withdraw."

It is impossible for words to express the uproar and turmoil of the moment. Cheers, groans, catcalls, hisses were mingled in one deafening din.

Mr. Bryan had again put the speaker's platform in the hands of the delegates. "Mr. Chairman," called the delegates for recognition from all parts of the hall, and Congressman Belmont of Virginia was called and invited to the speaker's stand.

When a semblance of order had been restored, and before Mr. Bryan had an opportunity to speak, Mr. Bryan announced that if New York and Virginia would take a poll of their delegates, and if a majority of the delegates of each state voted in favor of Belmont and Ryan, he would withdraw the last paragraph of his resolution.

"Not Not" came the cries from the delegates of the two states.

Raising his voice so as to be heard above the uproar, Mr. Bryan stated that two delegates from Virginia had asked that such part of the last paragraph as applied to Virginia be withdrawn, and he would do so, and if one delegate from New York would make the same request for that state he would withdraw the last paragraph entirely.

Again came the cries of "Not Not" accompanied by groans and hisses.

The convention at that moment was against Mr. Bryan and his resolution. An originally read would have been voted down, had the opportunity been offered.

Brice succeeded in getting attention and in the name of the Virginia delegation offered defiance to the Commoner, stating that no member of the the Virginia delegation had asked for the withdrawal of any part of the resolution; that Virginia was entirely competent to handle its internal affairs, and would recognize no right of Mr. Bryan to meddle with her.

New York's policy of silence, a policy which was maintained throughout the convention, remained unbroken throughout the turmoil, which lasted for an hour.

Before the vote which had been asked for on the suspension of the

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM SUMMARIZED

Following is a summary of the more important planks in the platform adopted by the Democratic national convention:

Declares for a tariff for revenue only; denounces the high Republican tariff as the principal cause of the unequal distribution of wealth. Favors immediate downward revision of present duties, especially upon necessities of life. Also favors gradual reduction so as not to interfere with or destroy legitimate industries.

Takes issue with the Republican platform as to the high cost of living, contending it is largely due to high tariff laws.

Favors vigorous enforcement of the criminal features of the anti-trust law. Demands additional legislation as may be necessary to crush private monopoly.

Urges people to support proposed constitutional amendments, providing for an income tax and election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

Declares for presidential preference primaries. Pledges party to enactment of law prohibiting campaign contributions by corporations and unreasonable campaign contributions by individuals.

Favors single presidential term and making president ineligible to reelection.

Favors efficient supervision and rate regulation of railroads, express companies, telegraph and telephone lines and a valuation of these companies by the interstate commerce commission.

In connection with a demand for such a revision of the banking laws as will give temporary relief in case of financial distress there is a denunciation of the Aldrich bill prepared by the monetary commission.

Recommends investigation of agricultural credit societies in Europe to ascertain whether a system of rural credits may be devised suitable to conditions in the United States.

Pledges party to enactment of legislation to prevent devastation of lower Mississippi valley by floods.

Favors national aid regarding post roads.

Repeats party's declaration of the platform of 1908 as to rights of labor and pledges the party to an employee's compensation law.

Declares the unnecessary withdrawal of public lands tends to retard development and bring reproach upon policy of conservation; declares for immediate action to make available Alaskan coal lands.

Favors encouragement of agriculture and legislation to suppress gambling in agricultural products.

Believes in fostering growth of a merchant marine.

Reaffirms previous declarations regarding pure food and public health.

Favors reorganization of the civil service.

Recommends law reform legislation.

Reaffirms position against "policy of imperialism and colonial exploitation" in Philippines.

Demands for Alaska full enjoyment of rights and privileges of territorial form of government.

Favors parcels post and extension of rural delivery.

refused to answer unless it were made more explicit.

Another asked whether he considered a refusal to support a candidate receiving Murphy's support the same as a refusal to support for president a man nominated with Murphy's support.

"Does not the law make a difference?" replied Mr. Bryan, "between the lawyer who defends a criminal after the crime has been committed, and the man who assists in the commission of crime?"

Mr. Bryan then announced his vote for Woodrow Wilson and retired to his seat in the Nebraska delegation; and he continued to cast his vote for Wilson throughout the night.

Numerous efforts to break both the unit rule as applied to instructed delegations and the two-thirds rule as applied to the nomination were made previous to the Saturday night adjournment. The first of these applied to Ohio and was successful, the move adding ten votes to the Wilson strength. But the resolution that applied to Ohio did not cover other states, and the enforcing of the rule led to wrangles on every ballot.

At the close of the twenty-fifth ballot late Saturday night Senator Stone of Missouri asked unanimous consent for the consideration of a motion providing that beginning with the twenty-eighth ballot the lowest man should drop out of the race, and on the final ballot the candidate receiving the majority of the votes cast should be the party nominee. The Texas delegation offered immediate objection, and the long, tedious calling of the roll of states continued.

With Monday came two important and interesting features. One was the apparent cracking of the deadlock in favor of Wilson. Despite the desperate endeavors of the Clark forces, the governor's vote increased steadily on every ballot until, on the thirty-ninth, it stood at 501½. After the fortieth ballot the Wilson vote fell off to 494, his net gain over the first ballot being 57½. When Wilson was at the high water mark on Monday, Clark had slumped to 422 but went up again to 430 before adjournment. At this time it seemed that the Illinois delegation held the key to the situation.

The other big event of the day was the exhortation of Bryan by John R. Stanchfield of New York. This was Murphy's first return blow, and it was a hard one. Praising the New York delegation, Stanchfield said:

"It is by common consent the most representative delegation that ever came to a national convention from New York. If these be the 'puppets of wax' that Mr. Bryan refers to, we say to that money-grabbing, office-seeking, publicity-hunting marplot of Nebraska—"

Stanchfield could not conclude the sentence. It was drowned in a burst of cheers.

While the speaker delivered this attack Bryan sat quietly in his seat. He watched Stanchfield closely and occasionally smiled.

"I desire to say again, the vote of New York is vital to success," continued Mr. Stanchfield. "And no man can go forth from this convention stigmatized and branded with the mark of Bryanism upon him and come within half a million votes of success."

"When Mr. Bryan makes the statement that these delegates from New York are under the influence of Morgan and Ryan and Belmont, the 'plutocrats' of this convention, he omits one name. Outside of the three he has named, the richest and most powerful plutocrat on the floor is the gentleman from Nebraska himself."

All day the delegates were in fighting mood, and once there was a genuine riot of which Bryan was the center. He resented as an insult the action of some Clark enthusiasts in placing in front of the Commoner a banner bearing words of praise of Clark attributed to Bryan in 1910. Missouri, New Jersey and Nebraska delegates "mixed it up," and even some press correspondents took a hand. Then the police separated the belligerents and later A. M. Dockery and Dave Francis sent apologies to Bryan, disclaiming for the Missouri delegation any connection with the banner.

Tired and out of temper, the delegates assembled at noon Tuesday, determined to wind up matters quickly if possible. On the first ballot of the day the forty-third, Illinois switched over to Wilson and on the succeeding ballots the vote of the governor rapidly increased. After the forty-fifth Senator Blackhead arose and withdrew the name of Oscar Underwood. "That means Wilson," said the managers for Clark. Then Governor Foss' name also was withdrawn, whereupon Senator Stone and ex-Governor Francis gave up hope for the speaker. They formally released the Clark delegates from their pledges, and it seemed all over but the shouting. But the Tammany bunch and some others were still stubborn and Fitzgerald of New York objected to the unanimous nomination of Wilson by acclamation. So further calling of the roll was necessary.

Every strategy known in political generalship was tried to stampede the convention for the different candidates. No convention in the history of this country has seen such wild demonstrations as have been witnessed in this one at Baltimore.

While Tuesday's dramatic incident, arising over the selection of a temporary chairman, was the cause of almost unprecedented turmoil, there was nothing even bordering on a demonstration. It was just plain fight—not enthusiasm.

While Tuesday's dramatic incident, arising over the selection of a temporary chairman, was the cause of almost unprecedented turmoil, there was nothing even bordering on a demonstration. It was just plain fight—not enthusiasm.

Even the speech of Temporary Chairman Parker did not arouse the response so characteristic of Democratic conventions of the past, and the convention showed nothing but a fighting mood until after the incident of the Bryan resolution of Thursday evening and the beginning of the nominating speeches.

The Clark and Wilson forces struggled valiantly to make the greater showing for their respective candidates. While Clark was showing the greater voting strength, the lung power of the thousands of college boys in the Wilson following gave to him an advantage so far as continued effort at noise-making was concerned.

The terrific din of Thursday night which was started by the Clark boys when Senator Reed named the speaker for the Democratic nomination continued unabated for one and a quarter hours, and in it there seemed to be employed every noise-making implement ever invented.

Great as was the Clark demonstration, however, it did not compare in noise with that led by the Princeton boys when Judge Westcott named the New Jersey executive. For more than one and a half hours the din continued, the lusty youngsters seeming to glory in their ability to keep it up.

Of all of the demonstrations of Thursday night the most amusing was that started by a man in the press stand for Governor Baldwin, when the name of the Connecticut executive was entered in the race for the nomination. Realizing that the fourteen delegates from Connecticut could not successfully compete with the stronger following of the other candidates, the men in the press stand volunteered a noisy assistance which they continued for more than twenty minutes and which subsided only when the chair threatened to clear the press stand if the reporters did not stop. The many star writers in the press stand, men whose reputations for genius are world-wide, led the Baldwin demonstration, and introduced into it all the elements of a first-class vaudeville show or a Gridiron club dinner. It was the one really spontaneous and amusing demonstration of the long week.

"Alfalfa Bill" Murry, a Wilson delegate from Oklahoma, was the acknowledged leader of the Wilson "demonstrators" among the delegations. Any time "Alfalfa Bill" wanted to start something he would raise his touselled head, wave his long arms of the north gallery where a group of Princeton boys had seats, and let out a wild west yell. It never failed to produce results. It was such a move that started the demonstration on Saturday night when on the twenty-fourth ballot the New Jersey executive passed the four hundred mark.

Of the many visitors to the convention none created more interest than Mrs. William H. Taft, when on Thursday afternoon and evening she occupied a seat in the box immediately back of the speaker's stand. She was the guest of Mrs. Norman H. Mack.

Mrs. Taft entered the convention hall just before Temporary Chairman Parker surrendered the gavel to Permanent Chairman James. The crowd watched the first lady of the land with eager interest as she listened to the denunciation of her distinguished husband and the arraignment of his administration contained in the speech of the permanent chairman. But if they expected any evidence of displeasure on the part of Mrs. Taft they were disappointed, for she only smiled at each telling point, and at the conclusion of the address applauded vigorously. She did not applaud, or even smile, when Mr. James turned his attention from President Taft to Colonel Roosevelt and included the latter in his arraignment and among those to whom the Democratic party was unalterably opposed.

As Mrs. Taft entered the box with Mrs. Mack a gray-haired southerner near enough to distinguish her started an ovation for her. When pleasantly chided for his actions by a younger acquaintance he replied:

"The first lady of this land, or any lady, is entitled to the courtesy of every gentleman, and I would have you know, sir, that the Democrats of the South are gentlemen."

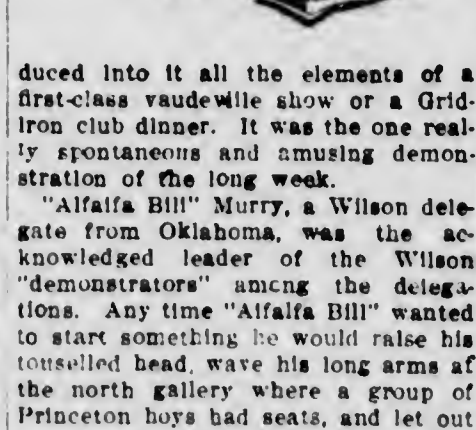

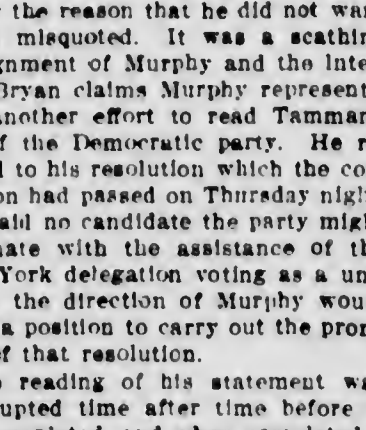

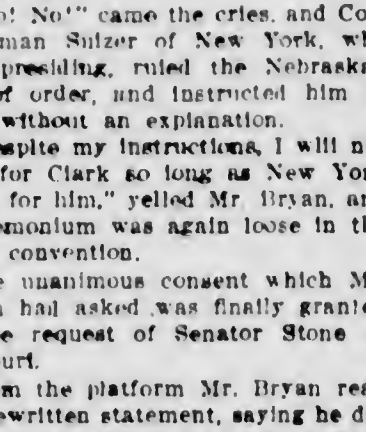

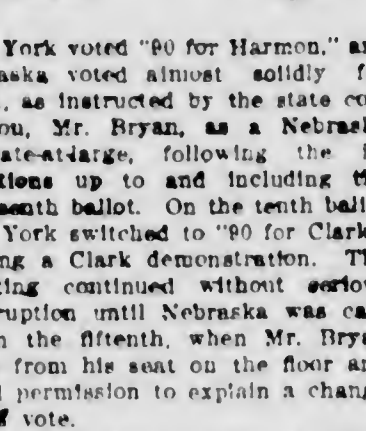

Mr. Bryan and his followers made political capital from the appearance in the convention of Ryan and Belmont. They acted as a red rag to a bull on the Bryan cohorts. Belmont occupied a conspicuous place in the first row in the box immediately back of the speaker, while Ryan, though occupying a seat with the Virginia delegation ordinarily, was on the speaker's stand a number of times. Ryan wore a plain business suit, and so far as clothing was concerned could not have been distinguished from any of the other delegates. Belmont attended most of the evening sessions dressed in evening clothes, the broad expanse of his white shirt front making him easily distinguishable from others around him.

Bryan, when not on the stand, occupied a seat with the Nebraska delegation immediately in front of the speaker and facing Belmont. During the sessions as the delegates would flock around the Nebraskan seeking his advice or counsel, or upbraiding him for his opposition, he would point his finger at Belmont to emphasize his points, and his action would nearly always result in an uproar.

On Thursday night, at the close of Senator Reed's speech naming Clark, the speaker's beautiful daughter stepped onto a chair in the gallery, and with a big American flag wrapped around her, and another in each hand, led the cheering for her father. She was the only woman who figured conspicuously in the demonstrations.

Baltimore is by no means a convention city. It is a city of homes with limited hotel accommodations, which made the housing of the big crowd a hard problem to solve. This shortage of hotel accommodations was met by appealing to the people of the city to open their homes to the visitors. The committee in charge established a room-renting agency where those willing to accommodate the Democratic guests could list their rooms. The following is a sample of what was offered:

"I'll let you like you to rent one of my rooms for me," said an amiable-looking elderly lady in weeds. "It is a large room and it is furnished with antique mahogany furniture. The bureau belongs to my great grandmother. It's a Sheraton, and you know how few Sheraton bureaus there are left in this country. If you could just send some western senator, or governor, or even a congressman to look at it, I know they would take it right away, and it would be such a treat for them to live, even for just a few days, in a room furnished with old mahogany. My husband traveled in the west once, and he told me all the furniture was just made of pine. He did not seem to like the west at all. You will be sure to send me a western governor or senator," she repeated as she moved away to give place to another woman with rooms to rent.

to how any deficiency in revenue may be made up. It regulates receipts, that is, it is constantly lowering them, but when the railroads wanted that same body to decide whether engineers' wages should be increased the request was refused. Thus we have regulation without responsibility, and thus have the railroads to submit to reduction in income, and at the same time contend with demands for larger expenditure.

So numerous are the orders issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission lowering freight rates that the newspapers no longer can spare space to print them.

Not a few roads of the first importance are paying out to dividends far more than they are earning. Illinois Central is not earning 50 cents for every dollar it is giving away in dividends. St. Paul is in exactly the same position. More roads than the laymen can realize have been "scurrying". Almost every railroad president admit that maintenance and equipment have not been dealt with generously during the last two or three years. Worse still, there has recently appeared a tendency to transform short-term equipment obligations into permanent securities, an unpardonable financial sin for plainly a long-term bond based on equipment that will go out of existence in a comparatively short period is not worth calling a "security" its security has been cast into the sunk heap. Other makeshifts have been resorted to in an effort to keep up appearances and dividends.

Would the Interstate Commerce Commission resent a suggestion that it interest itself in the "other side" of the railroad situation? If nothing be discovered to justify alarm, if nothing be found calculated to check the daily reduction in freight rates then the railroads, troubled investors and some other intelligent members of the public will feel infinitely relieved. New York American, June 7, 1912.

Fact and Comment on Finance and Business.

(By B. C. FORBES, Business Editor.)

Are American railroads heading toward prosperity or toward bankruptcy? The question concerns not only banking people, not only railroad managers and employees, not only investors in railroad securities. It concerns you, no matter what your station in life. You cannot afford to remain indifferent to it, for we are in widespread trouble to overtake our railroads, the people as a whole would suffer, and suffer more seriously than the thoughtless can imagine. True, the public in bygone years had too often cause for wanting to punish railroad owners who acted in the most autocratic, sometimes insolent manner, defiant of both reason and restraint.

But has not retribution sufficient befallen the railroads? Is it not time that a halt was called in imposing restrictions upon the running of our railways? Can the hands of our railway managers be tied still tighter with impunity to the public?

The man in the street cannot be expected to spend hours and efforts in analyzing intricate railroad accounts—he has problems enough of his own nearer home. He has a deep-rooted feeling that the railroads are very well able to look after themselves and a little more. He has not forgotten the past. In a vague sort of way he realizes that the railroads have been tamed a bit, that the Government has bridled them, that when they planned to exact higher freight rates a Federal commission had power to say "No" and that in other ways the railroads cannot now do as they please. But that he should become solicitous concerning their welfare—well, he guesses that is none of his business.

Now is it the business of you or me to worry over the knocks the railroads are receiving? Should we pay any heed to the now chronic complaint of fresh restrictions and impositions that, according to the railway people, threaten the financial and even the physical stability of the railroads? I am inclined to think we should.

Every one can readily understand that the country could not prosper were railroad after railroad to go under. An impoverished, decrepit, languishing railway is a handicap to every industry and interest depending on it for service. Not only so, but when a road begins to go down hill, its power to get capital vanishes, and the funds necessary to maintain the property cannot be obtained—and therefore cannot be spent. Stockholders in course of time suffer the loss of their income, and unless something helpful be done, bondholders, also have to starve, events which hit the pockets of thousands—indeed if bankruptcies became general, millions of investors would be involved. Is there any danger of this happening? Railroad authorities of sound judgement say there is.

Without holding any brief for the railroads, it can be said in all truth that the outlook is not inspiring. A railroad manager is not today a manager in the old or full sense of the term. He has now a superior—the Interstate Commerce Commission. This body has a maximum of power, but a minimum of responsibility. It can and does order railroad income to be reduced without having to trouble itself one iota as
